Maine. The repeated violations of the rights of American citizens within the territorial limits of the United States, by the public authorities of the Bricish Prosince of New Brunswick, has at length assumed an aspect so serious, that the Executive of the State of Maine has issued a Proclamation on the subject. He has also appointed an agent, (Charles S. Davies, of Portland, with authority to act in behalf of the State of Main, in obtaining "information as to all objects relating to the rights of property and jurisdiction between the governments of the said State and the Province of New Brunswick; and further to inquire into the nature of the aggressions by inhabitants of said Province, of which complaints have recently been made to the Executive, by citizens of this State residing near the National Journal.

Elective Franchise. Dr. Franklin was once a member of a body in which it was contended that a certain amount of prop erty, (fifty dollars we think) should be required for voting. The Doctor was opposed to it. "To day," said he, "a man owns a jackass worth fifty dollars, and he is entitled to vote; but before the next election the jackass dies. The man in the mean time, has become more experienced; his knowledge of the principles of government, and his acquaintance with mankind, are more extensive; and he is therefore better qualified to make a proper selection of ruler -- but the jackass is dead and the man cannot vote. gentlemen." said he addressing himself to the advocates of that qualification, " pray inform me in whom is the tight of suf frage? in the man or in the jackass?"

DECEMBER 11, 1827.

The proceedings of the meeting of the friends of Gen. Jackson at Grayson Court House, Virginia, sent us for publication, shall appear next week.

EIGHTH OF JANUARY.

Preparations are making to celebrate this day throughout the Union, in a most splendid and appropriate style. By the following proceedings of a meeting in this place on the 1st inst, it will be seen that our citizens are determined not to be behind others in manif sting their patriotic devotion to the cause of their common country, by evincing their admiration of the heroic valor of the brave men who achieved the brillant event which the day brings to mind.

At a public meeting, held at the Court House in Salisbury, on Saturday, the 1st Dec. 1827, agreeably to notice previously given, Maj. John McClelland, on motion, took the chair, and Gen. R. M. Saunders was appointed secretary. object of the meeting having been briefly stated by the chairman, the following resolutions were proposed, and unanimously adopted, to wit:

Resolved, that we hold in sacred remembran the gallant services of those who risked their lives in the battle of New-Orleans, on the 8th of January, 1815; and in commemoration of that glorious event, we will unite with such of our fellow-citizens as may be disposed to celebrate the approaching anniversary of that triumph of American valor over the invincibles of Welling-

Resolved, that a committee of seven be ap-Resolved, that a committee of seven be appointed, to make suitable arrangements on the occasion; and that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Western Carolinian. The following gentlemen were named by the chairman to compose the committee of arrangements, viz: Thos. G. Polk, Junius Sneed, R. M. Saunders, Philo White, Samuel Reeves, Lucco Mitchel, and Dapiel Meenan.

A gentleman present then rose, and stated,

A Ball will be given in the evening.
In announcing these arrangements, the committee will remark, that, as the motive for celebrating the 8th of January is one which American, who loves his country, and rightly estimates her happy institutions, must heartily approve, they cherish the hope that all the citi-zens of Salisbury and the adjacent country, and such strangers as can make it convenient, will unite in commemorating that glorious event which afforded protection to our Southern frontier, gave imperishable renown to our arms, and shed a lustre on our national character brilliant and unfading.

Snelson .-- It is stated in the Richmond Compier, that Dr. Brockenbrough, the President of the Bank of Virginia, has gone to Washington City to procure some documents from the department of state, which may facilitate the pursuit and apprehension of Snelson in Europe. This dishonest bank officer must be caught; we see no chance of his escaping. How much betfaithful to his trust, and continued at home in the of taking on board 25 negroes which a gentlein ease the remainder of his days,--rather than provided means of transporting them out of the have fled from justice and his country, pursued as a fugitive to the remotest corners of the philanthropic gentleman? Rev. Adam Empie. - Our readers have already been advised, that the Rev. Adam Empie, of the Episcopal Church in Wilmington, has had the appointment of President of William and Mary College (Virginia) conferred on him by the corporation of that institution. From the Wilmington Recorder we learn, that that emir. ent divine preached a farewell sermon to the people of his congregation in that town, on Sanday, the 18th ult. preparatory to his leaving them, to enter upon the duties of his new station. The Recorder remarks: "Many appropriate and forcible appeals, were made to the auditors, in this address, which coming from one whose character has been ever conspicuous for christian purity, benevolence and zeal; and a great part of whose life has been devoted to their spiritual interests; will, we trust, produce lasting effects on their minds. Notwithstanding the bad weather, the Church was full. Many persons of different denominations, attended on this occasion; and we have not conversed with any, who has not acknowledged himself moved, during the solemn and affecting scene.

The editor of the Charleston Gazette hat lately bestowed a cowskinning on his neighbor the editor of the Mercury; and the editor of the Frankfort (Kentucky) Spirit of '76, has caned one of the other editors in that place, The editor of the Middlesex Gazette in noticing these occurrences, remarks, that he does not much like such striking proofs of spirit; but acknowledges that several editors of his acquaintance, as well as their patrons, would be greatly benefitted by a little flagellation, as it would enliven their ideas, and "tickle their fan. cy." We have heard of thick kutled people, who were under the necessity of endgelling their brains, (or the place where they should be) to bring out ideas, as sparks ar brought from the flint by striking it with steel,-but we never before knew that flagellating the back would sharpen the mental faculties. However, as corporal castigation is said to be a wonderful renovator of the physical faculties, we are not prepared to deny its efficacy on an objuse in tellect.

Thos. Berry, and Richard Britt, (the latter a Revolutionary Soldier) were ran away with in a gig, near Camden, S. C. on the 20th ult , the from it with such violence, that each had a leg broken, and Mr. Britt otherwise so badly injured

This resolution being unanimously adopted, the following gentlemen were appointed to compose "The Jackson Corresponding Committee," to wit: John McClelland, Thos. G. Polk, R. M. Saunders, James Martin, Jr. David P. Caldwell, Charles Fisher. Samuel Reeves, Philo White, and Henry Giles.

The meeting then adjourned.

> Phineas L. Tracy. Esq. a man of respectable talents, and of high standing in society, has been elected a member of Congress from the 29th district in the state of New-York, in place of David E. Evans, Esq. who resigned in consequence of his duties as Agent of the great Holland Land Company not permitting him to be absent from home. Mr. Tracy is preciained as a friend to the administration; we are inclined to doubt this, from the circumstance of his having been nominated by the Van Buren party; and from the fact, that his opponent, Wm. H. Fisdale, is a person of no capacity for that station, and of no political standing in community-of which we have a personal knowledge-and therefore it is not likely he would be taken up in earnest by any party. And moreover, before the election, the Jackson papers spoke with much satisfaction of Mr. Frace's not having any serious opposition. For these ressons, we think the Adams people will miss their reckoning if they put down Mr. Tracy on their

Mr. Henry Shultz, the founder of Hamburg, S. C. writes a long communication from Edgefield prison, under date of 17th ult. in relation to the trade on the Savannah river. He dwells on the advantages which the state of South Carolina has derived from his personal exertions, in raising up the town of Hamburg, and in thereby diverting a large portion of trade to Charleston, which formerly went down the river to Savannah. He concludes thus :- " A half century have I labored for name and for famethe other half I shall go for MONEY."

Cotton.-By a statement in the last New-York Cotton.—By a statement in the last New-York Daily Advertiser, it appears that the whole crop of cotton in the United States, for the year ending 30th Sept. last, amounts to 957,281 bales. For the same period last year, 720,037 bales; increase in one year, 237,254 bales. The crop of North-Carolina, and Virginia, the present year is estimated at 112,81 bales; and the crop of last year, at 88,40 last year, at 88,4:0.

Railways.—It will be seen, by reference to the proceedings of the legislature, that Mr. Fisher, of this town, has brought the subject of constructing stallways in this state, before the legislature, in the shape of a resolution authorsizing a survey of a route for a work of that description, from some point on the Yadkin river above the Narrows, to the town of Payetteville. We hope the legislature may adopt this resolution—or else take some other measure that is calculated to test the feasibility of carrying the Railroad system into operation in this state. THE MEETING OF SHIPS. MY MOORE.

When o'er the silent seas alone, For days and nights we've cheerless gone, O, they who've felt it know how sweet, Some sunny morn, a sail to meet. "Ship ahoy!" our joyful cry, Sparkling at once is every eye, While, answering back the sounds we hear. "Ship ahoy !-what cheer-what cheer ?" Then sails are back'd-we nearer come-Kind words are said of friends and home-And soon, too, we part with pain, To sail o'er silent seas again.

BIOGRAPHICAL

There's not a string attuned to mirth,

But has its chord in Melancholy.

THOMAS ADDIS EMMET, Esq.

The melancholy death of this excellent man and distinguished advocate has been announced to this community, and excited a sympathy as honorable to its and appalling demise, all hearts deplore.

When an individual in ordinary life, whatever may be the purity of his character and the general elevation of his views, is snatched away from us, the loss Mr. Emmet was released, and passing to penetrates the hearts of friends, and perhaps destroys forever all the bland and soothing joys, all the affectionate endear ments of the social circle in which he moved; but society feels not the event that has occurred, and the great machine ular favour and professional reputation, rolls on with the regularity of undisturbed and noiseless progression. But when a man like Thomas Addis Emmet, whose name is engraven on the imperishable tablets of history-whose genius and whose eloquence have received the unbought tribute of both hemisphereswhose public and private course, whether s a patriot or father, was a combination of unspotted tonor, of the gentlest and kindest affection, and the warmest chari ty-he simple beauty of whose life was commentary on What men may be in this transitory world; when such a man is struck down to the remorseless grave. the blood rushes back to the fountains of the heart, and we are lost in wonder as we contemplate the strength and unaccountable providence which has hurried him so suddenly away. Emmet passed from before our eyes like a bright vision -he stood but now in the glorious pano ply of talent and eloquence in the very hall of judgment, pursuing the noble career he had embraced with an ardour and devotion tarely witnessed at any time, but almost never at his period of life. We heard his last effort, which like the and expects to receive within a few weeks, from Philadelphia and New-York, an assortment more extensive than has ever reached this country; and he pledges his time and talents, in future, entirely to his profession. Simple and unostentations in his private nfe, Mr. E. devoted his whole soul to his profession; midnight vigils too often followed the severe labours of the Forum - . and no client ever complained that the merits of his case had not been perceived and sustained. His knowledge was profound-his researches to his last mo-ments unremitting. He possessed a mind of extraordinary comprehension, and the strongest and most extensive powers of analysis he enjoyed the secret of identifying himself with his case, and adding a sort of personal interest to his professional obligation. Endued with a brilliant imagination, fortified with accu rate and discriminating views of English history, enriched with all the fruits of various knowledge, and blessed with a noble enthusiasm the appeared at the bar, the very model of a learned, accomplished, and eloquent lawyer."

American Wine .- The editor of the Darien (Georgia) Gazette, says : " A few days ago, a gentleman of this city politely presented me two bottles of Wine made by Thomas McCall, Esq. with a request that I would give my opinion of it, ly quit hope, to be free from fear. which I do with pleasure. One bottle was made from Grapes which be denominates the Warrenton, native grape. This Wine, to my taste, is similar to a rich of one Samuel Jessup, who died at the wine such as I have often drank at Cy age of 65, in 1817. This man in the prus as a breakfast wine. The other bot tle is from a grape he calls the Violet. This wine approaches nearer to the Marsala, or, as we term it (Sicily Madeira) than real Madeira; though a little too sweet for either. It is to be hoped that Mr. McCall will continue his exertions in promoting the culture of the vine; and that Georgians, grateful for those patriotic efforts will amply compensate his labors."

The following lines, addressed to Congress. were written by a Revolutionary Soldier in Kentucky, adapted to the National tune, " Hail Columbia." If they are not very poetical, they ceived in this country states, that the arcan claim the merit of truth. Hail Columbia, happy land.

Dangerous Question - A simple hostler being one day at confession with his priest, was asked by the father if he had never greased the teeth of the guests' horses, to knowledged the frequent commission of that fraud. "How," said the priest! "I remember at your last confession you said you had never done so !"-" No more had I then," answered the ostler ; " for till you told me. I never knew that greasing a horse's teeth would prevent his cating; but since you first put it in my mind, I have been tempted to practice the fraud."

Original Anecdote .- Most of our readers know that General Greene, of the Revolution; and General Brown, now Major General of the United States, were by education, both Quakers. The latter not long since attended the Quakers meeting in this city. After service, a worthy Friend remarked to a bystander: During the revolution we had a Greene quaker and now we have a Brown quaker; but they were both true bine." [Phila paper.

Prince Matternich - It is stated in a letter from Vienna, that this distinguished nobleman, the greatest diplomatist in Europe, is about to lead a plebeian to the altar, in the person of Mademoiselle Do Leykam. She is the daughter of a female French opera dancer-young, and very pretty. All the Austrian aristocracy are in commotion at this misalliance. It is even said that the credit of this powerful diplomatist may be shaken by the circum-

Toad in Stone .- A piece of stone from a lime stone quarry at Warnall, N. Y. upon being broken open in September last, was found to have a cavity in which was a live toad. The cavity was barely large enough for the toad to turn round, and is coated with a christalized or sparry substance. The stone is a portion of a solid rock sixteen feet below the surface.

THE WORLD.

The world which the young man figures to himself smooth and quiet as the lake in the vailey, he will find a sea foaming with tempests and boiling with whirlpools; be will be sometimes overwhelmed by the waves and violence, and sometimes dashed against the rocks of treacherv. Amidst wrongs and frauds, competitions and anxieties, be will wish a thous sand times for seats of quiet, and willing.

Phusic .- Doctor Wadd mentions a cash course of twenty one years, took two hundred and twenty six thousand nine hundred and thirty four pills, and fore? thousand bottles of mixture!

BRITISH CABINET.

It would appear to be a difficult task to get the British Cabinet again completely organized since the death of Mr. Canning. By almost every arrival we have information of various changes, which although not materially affecting its character, yet we think, go to shew its want of stability. Thus one of the latest London papers rerangement now is, that Lord Tenterden is to be Speaker in the House of Lords ; that Sir J. Scarlett is to take his place as Chancellor, and that Mr. Brougham is to be Attorney General.
